NEWSIES PLAY BALL

First Victory for the Detroit "Journal " Boys.

An Enthusiastic Crowd at the Polo Grounds This Morning.

REPECIAL TO THE WORLD, I Polo Grounds, June 8.—Park row was thronged with people as early as 8 o'clock this morning, all auxious to see the three newsboys' nines as they assembled preparatory to taking carriages to the Polo Grounds, where THE EVENING WORLDS and the Detroit Journals were to play the great championship contest of the Newsboys' Series.

There were six large open carriages, a bandwagon and band in waiting for the thirty 'kids" who compose the nines of the De troit Journal, the Brooklyn World and THE EVENING WORLD. The latter were on the ground first, and looked just as unconcerned as though the honor of their city was not in their keeping.

Then came the long-looked-for and great ball-playing team from Detroit, making a very natty appearance in their uniforms of variegated colors, but their faces were colorless and they seemed a trifle nervous.

Manager Osborn, of THE EVENING WORLD, escorted them to their carriages, together with their manager, Mr. F. H. Wakefield, who looked consequential but embarrassed in a tall silk hat and a light suit, cut in the latest style. Last of all came the Brooklyn boys, bearded and aged, who went as honored spectators.

Then, when all were seated in the carriages the procession, moved by the stirring strains of Gander's Brass Band, took up its line of march amid the cheers of the multitude through Park row to the Bowery, as far as One Hundred and Tenth street, and thence to the scene of battle, where their appearance was so eagerly awaited by hundreds of

After nearly eight months of inspection and investigation of and reports as to the sanitary condition of Billy McGlory's notorious dive, Armory Hall, at 158 and 169 Hester street, the Board of Health yesterday con-demned it as unfit for human habitation, and ordered that it be vacated.

According to the sanitary inspectors who have visited the place at intervals since October last, when McGlory was ordered to repair his property and cleanse and disinfect it of its filth, no effort to comply with the order has been made, and the building has become permeated with filthy and disease, breeding odors which necessitate its vacation.

This is the building for which, notwithstanding its immoral and crime-recking record, Mayor Hewitt issued a theatrical license last fall, but which public opinion compelled him to revoke.

The idea that the Mannattan Club would boyoost the Pastime Club on the plea that the latter's field meeting was really a "plonto affair" was regarded as preposterous, and other causes were ascribed. Ill-feeling between Secretary Hughes, of the Mannattan, and President Sullivan, of the Pastime, was generally said to be the cause. Indeed, Mr. Sullivan himself asserted that such was the case. "I had three members of the Mannattan proved to be professionals," said he, "and Hughes has been sore ever since. The men who run that club even went so far as to make their indoor meeting at Madison Square Garden clash with ours at Parepa Hall after we had claimed the date weeks anead."

Mr. Hughes taid yesterday: "There is no hard feeling between Mr. Sullivan and me or any other member of the Pastime Club. Mr. Pike, the Chairman of our Athletic Committee, in seading out this letter only reminded the members of the rules of the M. A. C. and the A. A. A. a. which prohibit amateurs from competing at picnic games. There is also another objectionable feature about these games, and that is the Police Gazette set of colors which are up for competition on that day. Now, wouldn't it be a nice filing for our members to win that banner and have it placed in our club rooms and have some of our members, such as Channey M. Depew or Whitelaw Reid, comining in and their eye, slighting on such a banner! The M. A. C. will gladly support the P. A. trying to recover the body of Mr. Garrett, but all to no purpose. Finally the steamer Sue came along and the rescued members of the party were transferred to that boat, and the Joppa proceeded on her course. The Sue brought the passen-gers to the Light street wharf. The steward of the Gleam said that the last time he saw Mr. Garrett he was standing on the afterdeck of the Gleam near where the Joppa struck her. He grabbed the chains of the Joppa, which were banging down, and called the rest of his party to follow him as he tried to climb up the sides of the steamer, but the chains and a boat gave way and Mr. Garrett fell overboard with them. The Joppa backed off just as Mr. Garrett tried to climb up its side.

The crew of the Gleam were landed from the Sue at Locust Point. They at once se cured a tug and put back to the scene of the collision to make another search for Mr. Gar rett's body.

Capt. Peter Geoghan, who talked with his brother, William Geoghan, captain of the Sue, shortly after he arrived here, says there is no doubt of the drowning of Mr. Garrett.

George C. T. Salomon, the disavowed brother of Ann O'Delia, was still in the with the proceedings.

Attorney Davis continued reading the correspondence between him and his sister, which was offered to show that the madame always held him to be her brother and thus addressed him, spraking of Prof. and Mrs. Salomon as her parents.

If there were heretofore any doubt as to whether madame was the daughter of Loia Montez and the imbecile King Ludwig, as she claims, or of plain Prof. Salomon and his wife, it must have been disabused by the similarity of certain peculiarities possessed, by her and George Salomon.

Each has a marked peculiarity of hoarseness, scantiness of voice, and each is of a strangely nervous temperament, which finds expression in exactly the same gestures, half articulated ejaculations and exhibitions of irrepressible temper, which could not be the result merely of a similar environment in childhood.
